Landmarks

"OUR life is like some vast lake that is slowly filling with the stream of our years. As the waters creep surely upward, the landmarks of the past are one by one submerged. But there will always be memory to lift its head above the tide until the lake is overflowing."

—Alexander Bisson.

TO the above thought we should add that it is not buildings, sign posts, or other material objects alone but teachers, classmates, and our daily school habits that we regard as landmarks in this stage of our life adventure.

—The Editors.

B. H. S. Seal

ABOVE is a reproduction of the school seal, designed by Andrew Tymon of the class of June 1931. It points out clearly the ideals for which our high school stands. Its motto, LEARN TO LIVE, should be the motto of every pupil. This seal is now used on all class rings and on all official documents of the school.

The four steps represent the four years of high school. They support the four columns representing our moral ideals that we are continually trying to attain: TRUTH, LOYALTY, COURAGE, and SELF-RELIANCE. These ideals make up PERSONALITY, represented by the half-sphere at the top of the four columns, from which radiate the SEVEN RAYS symbolical of a well-ordered and balanced life: Health, Command of the Tools of Learning, Good Citizenship, Worthy Home Membership, Vocational Proficiency, Worthy Use of Leisure, and Ethical Character. The OPEN BOOK and the WINGED FOOT represent, respectively, the MENTAL and PHYSICAL sides of high school and later life. The motto, LEARN TO LIVE, embodies all the factors necessary for wholesome, beneficial living.

Dedication

IN appreciation for his encouragement, guidance, and co-operation we, the class of January, 1940, dedicate our classbook to Mr. Charles E. Morgan. One of the outstanding landmarks of Bloomfield High is his room, 409-B, where we have found at all times a grand sport and a true friend.

Alma Mater of Bloomfield High School

Words and Music by
A. D. Crosby

Maestoso

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of four systems of music, each with a vocal line (treble clef) and a piano accompaniment line (bass clef). The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is common time (C). The tempo is marked 'Maestoso' and the dynamic is 'mf' (mezzo-forte). The lyrics are as follows:

There's a high school in New Jer-sey, Dear old Bloom-field, blesser name;—
Soon the time will come when leav-ing Brings sor-row to each heart;—

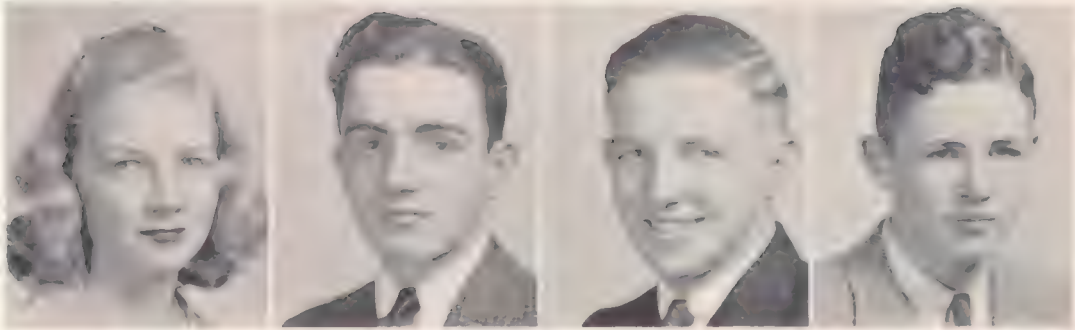

And we've loved her, yes, we've loved her, Since the day when first we came.—
And we'll say good-bye to Bloom-field— Let us prom-ise, ere we part,—

So, all hail! to Al-ma Ma-ter And pledge e-ter-nal-ly, —
Though the years be long, when-ev-er we may meet, we'll join in praise,—

To live and die for Bloom-field High in love and loy-al-ty.
And thank our Al-ma Ma-ter for our good old high school days.

320 College Avenue

WITH much nail-biting and knocking of knees, the cast of our senior play, "320 College Avenue", realized that it was almost 8:15 p. m., March 31, 1939.

Dix Crosby had spent the last month doing his best to make actors and actresses of us "amachewers". Even then, fifteen minutes before curtain time, with his sleeves rolled up and a grim expression on his face, he was smearing sticky, smelly creams on our countenances.

Nervously waiting on the winding stairs were the sentimental poets, Dolores Buie and Lester Palmer; the wallflowers, Dorothy Groendyke and Haldane Wilson; the college freshmen, Marion Walrath and Henry Hochuli; and several others still to undergo the operation in the "chair". It was hard to recognize our fellow classmates among football players Larry Stevens and Bill Greenip, strutting in their tuxedos, and lovely Bette Pierson, Ruth Dafter, and Lucille Palis, gracefully gliding in their long gowns behind the closed curtain. Just as the warning gong sounded, there was a gasp from Judy, the leading lady. Her fatal hatpin had disappeared!

Countless situations arose when the law student, Charles Fulbeck; Billy Grady, Robert Callaghan; "Mighty Minna", Eloise Smith; and other active members of a co-ed college assembled for an evening of fun. This time it was a "Gay Nineties" party. Duly chaperoned by the dean of women, Joan Seaton, and by Professor Sigmund S. Slopes, Al Fish, the couples moved across the stage, waltzing to the romantic tones of "The Masquerade Is Over" sung by Val, Vincent Palladino, the college crooner. Breaking into this peaceful scene rose the frightened voice of Judy, Jeanne Edwards.

"Lee! Lee!"

Her partner, Al Sharp, lay stretched on the floor, dead! Order was soon restored by the medical student, Justine Johnson, and the doctor, Glenn Schueler, was called. Of course, questioning by the cigar-smoking chief-of-police, Charles Anthony, and his assistant, Arthur Henderson, followed. The chief supervised a sanity test involving calisthenics suggested by the professor. Even this proved unsuccessful, and the job was turned over to Judy. Using her brains as well as her beauty, she soon proved the villain to be Russ, Ted Clapp. As he tried to make a get-away, about ten of these college beauties dressed in their gay-nineties costumes brought him to the floor with a flying tackle. Crash! Another five dollars of our profits gone. Mrs. Fish's lamp went down along with Ted. In the midst of this turmoil the ghostly form of the supposed corpse, Lee, appeared on the stairway. What a let-down!—Our production was a play within a play.

The cast, however, is only one part of a play production. Doing a fine job behind stage were the student coach, Edith Mertz; business chairman, Vincent Palladino; advertising chairman, Ruth Zeidler; and ticket chairman, Marie Lyons. William Hosek, Paul Lewis, and William Canals were property men. Bill Hosek's car certainly ate the gas during those weeks of collecting lamps, telephone, magazines, and other properties. Muriel Roome and Irene Foley served as head ushers.

HOMEMAKERS OF TOMORROW

The Home Economics Club is affiliated with the National and New Jersey Home Economics Association.

At the meetings speakers discuss topics connected with home economics. Many interesting trips have been taken, including ones to Oakes' Mill, to Bamberger's, and to Ward's Bakery. Sometimes the members cook a dinner and invite their mothers. At Christmas time baskets are packed in co-operation with the school. Last spring the club served as hostesses to a state-wide student club rally.

NEWS ABSORBERS

Sponsored by the Sphinx Society, the Current Events Forum was founded in February 1938. Joint meetings were held by these two organizations during the first term of the latter's existence. The Forum also held independent meetings every month.

At certain meetings this club has heard such speakers as Dr. Frank Kingdon, president of Newark University; Dr. A. G. Sinclair; Dr. Hatch of Montclair State Teachers College; and Dr. Alexander Cairnes. In February 1939 the group conducted a banquet. At an assembly sponsored by the Current Events Forum, the school heard Dr. Felix Wittmer of Montclair State Teachers College.

Since its main purpose is to familiarize students with current problems and to give them a chance to express themselves, the Forum conducts discussions in addition to having many well-known speakers at its meetings.

OUR OWN SYMPHONY

The orchestra is open to any students of the high school who have achieved sufficient control of an instrument to enable them to play in ensemble.

All choirs of the orchestra are represented, the membership numbering about seventy-five. Rehearsals are conducted both in class time and as extra-curricular activity with credit basis.

Public performances are given both at school and at community functions. One concert a year has become an annual event, and social life is provided by parties and picnics.

The orchestra aims to provide a wholesome outlet for emotions, to co-ordinate activity of hand and mind one with the other, and to build a spirit of co-operation and artistic standards of performance.

Perfect attendance is honored by medals.

THE STAG LINE

Primarily the purpose of the Hi-Y is to act as a service club. We aim to be at the call of the school at any time our help is needed.

Secondly we attempt to accomplish three things: (1) to develop the boys' ability to think by conducting discussion groups and talks by leaders in various fields; (2) to develop the physical side of the boys' lives through various athletic programs such as swimming, camping, and softball; (3) to develop boys so they will become socially well-adjusted. This we attempt to accomplish through dances and various activities which offer the boys an opportunity to preside or to speak before a group.

AH! WHAT FORM!

The purpose of the Swimming Club is to encourage all girls of Bloomfield High School to develop their swimming ability through proper physical and educational training.

Classes are held at the Montclair Y. M. C. A. every Tuesday and Friday. On Tuesdays there are co-ed swims and on Fridays the Montclair and Bloomfield girls swim. Miss Galley is the instructor, and Miss V. Wilson is the faculty adviser.

Meetings are held every month at school at which speakers are asked to talk to the club.

OFFICIAL NEWS-HOUNDS

The Student Prints, the bi-weekly newspaper of Bloomfield High School, is published in an attempt to intensify a feeling of unity in the student body and to acquaint the pupils and teachers with the various activities going on in the school. The staff, made up entirely of high school students, has Miss V. Parsons for their literary adviser and Mr. Norman O. Wertman for business adviser.

Betty Lewit (June '40) was the editor-in-chief from September, 1939 to February, 1940, while Carl Schopfer (June '40) will hold that position from February to June, 1940.

The Evolution of a Landmark

THE foundation for our "landmark", our career in Bloomfield High School, was laid in February, 1936. Through the classic portals crept 252 green freshmen, who were destined to become the class of January '40. They were a bit dubious, perhaps, but nevertheless eager to seek every possible adventure.

Being of an energetic nature, we immediately set to work and elected our first class officers: Almon Fish, president; Eloise Smith, vice-president; Ruth Zeidler, secretary; and Anthony Galioto, treasurer. Mr. Benton Allen was selected as our adviser. Our first venture to raise money was carried out successfully in the form of a candy sale. Al Fish, president; William Greenip, vice-president; Jeanne Edwards, secretary; and Anthony Galioto, treasurer, became our officers for the sophomore year. Thus we completed the first floor of our "landmark".

As sophomores we were ready for the construction of our second floor. We started off by sponsoring a St. Patrick's Day dance, "The Shamrock Swing". The slogan, "Your Favorite Orchestra, Your Favorite Song", drew a record-breaking crowd. At this time we were forced to say goodbye to Mr. Allen and to welcome Mr. Charles Morgan as our new adviser. Not only our class but the entire student body missed our vice-principal, Mr. Hollingsworth, who was promoted to the position of principal of the Bloomfield Junior High School. His place, however, was ably filled by Mr. Harry Rice. The leaders for our junior year were Al Fish, president; John Allen, vice-president; Anthony Galioto, treasurer; and Jeanne Edwards, secretary.

When we were lordly upper classmen, the "landmark" was ready for its third floor. Again we resorted to a class dance in order to fill our coffers. The Serenaders supplied the music for the "Witches' Whirl", held on Hallowe'en. A barrel of cider and boxes of doughnuts were consumed by the dancers. The social highlight of the year, however, was our Junior Promenade held December 28, 1938, at the Glen Ridge Women's Club. Carl Croll and his orchestra provided delightful music for both the lover of the waltz and for the jitterbug. At mid-year after the resignation of our president and vice-president, we elected Vincent Palladino and Eloise Smith, respectively, as successors. Having completed three-fourths of our "landmark", we began work on the last and most important floor. The last election found our graduating class officers to be Vincent Palladino, president; George White, vice-president; Jeanne Edwards, secretary; and Alexander Boyt, treasurer.

Time pressed closely as we endeavored to make this year yield more than the former ones. "320 College Avenue" smashed the headlines as the play of the season, with Jeanne Edwards as leading lady and Ted Clapp playing opposite her. Expenses were growing too quickly; we once more put our high-pressure salesmanship to test by selling Christmas cards.

Much time and energy were spent compiling our class book, in which we tried to portray the major experiences of our four years of high school. Thus we have placed the finishing touches upon our edifice. It will be with great regret that we leave our alma mater, but we are looking forward to building even greater landmarks in the future years. With many thanks for all she has done for us we say goodbye to Bloomfield High.

Football - 1939

BLOOMFIELD received the North Jersey Football Championship for its consecutive years, 1932-37. Last year saw the end of the great records compiled by former B. H. S. grid teams. The 1939 team, led by Captain Wilfred "Pete" Johnson, earned a good record of six wins, two defeats, and one tie. The Bengals won their first five games, defeating Weequahic, Belleville, Flushing, Central of Paterson, and Dickinson. The victory over Belleville followed two scoreless ties in '38 and '37, and the triumph over Paterson avenged the defeat of the previous year, which was the first suffered by B. H. S. since the opening of the 1934 season. Bloomfield lost its first game at the hands of the powerful champs from Garfield. Irvington was tied 0-0, but a strong Nutley team defeated us. B. H. S. avenged last year's defeat at the hands of Montclair by swamping the Mounties 26 to 0.

Captain Johnson, former Captain Larry Stevens, Al Robinson, Bill Greenip, Frank Vesterman, Ed McGowan, Tommy Adams, and Sam Zahnle were the returning lettermen who carried the brunt of the work. Not many substitutions were made because of the scarcity of reserves. Jim Landrum, Adam Kochel, Ray De Luca, Stuart Lobell, Wilbur Shipley, Walter Markowitz, Bill Marfuggi, Johnny Morton, and Bobby Kerr also saw plenty of action. Sam Zahnle, a fine kicker, runner, and defensive man, was voted the most valuable player, with Bill Greenip runner-up. Zahnle is to be captain of the 1940 team.

Basketball - 1938-9

THE 1936-37 team, led by Red Englund, including Byram, Kinder, Frank, Bieksna and Englund, brought Bloomfield its first basketball championship. The following season Captain Byram's team won 14 out of 15 games in the regular season but was not successful in the tournament. Last year's team narrowly missed bringing the state championship back to B. H. S. for the second time in three years. The season's record of seventeen wins in twenty-one games, including four out of five tournament games, was a fine tribute to the skill and teamwork of these boys.

There were four returning lettermen in the squad at the start of the season: Captain Harold Savage, forward; Jackie Robinson, a good guard; high-scoring Andy Kostecka, center; and the mighty mite, Ziggy Kinder, guard. In February Bob Englund, a veteran of the 1936-37 champs, entered school and proved very valuable. Bill Greenip played great basketball and was elected captain of the 1939-40 team. The team was very tall and aggressive, winning several close games on these merits.

Returning lettermen include: Captain Bill Greenip; all-state Andy Kostecka, the state's highest scorer; also Matt Wheelan, Herman Schleif, Red Ayres, Sid Spitz, Bud Straiht, and Ted Bielitz.

Track - 1939

THREE years ago, through the untiring efforts of Coach Spencer C. Woolley, track reappeared in B. H. S. as a minor sport. Bill Geyer was captain of the first team. The following year track became a major sport and began to command the respect and interest of the school.

The 1939 team, led by Captain Franklin Rhodes, while not a world-beater, showed well against strong opposition, and with eight lettermen returning the outlook for 1940 seems bright. Bloomfield defeated Verona, West Orange, Passaic, and finished second to Montclair in a quadrangle meet.

Captain Rhodes did well in both hurdle events before he was injured in mid-season. Bill Young, a lanky fellow, without doubt gave the best and most consistent performances. Young ran the 440 and 880, and in winning most of these races he created several records. He also placed fourth in the 440 at the state meet. Besides Rhodes of our class, Schueler earned his letter as a hurdler. Ed Van Buskirk was a versatile man, holding the high jump record besides winning points in the broad jump and javelin events. John Irvin, a good miler, will also be missed this year. Al Olenksy did well in the weight events and seems ready for an even better season.

Only five of the thirteen lettermen, Rhodes, Schueler, Irvin, Van Buskirk, and Ezekian, the manager, have been graduated. Returning are Captain-elect Young, Olenksy, Carman, Ward, Kosteka, Markowitz, Sadowski, and Marfuggi, who will form the backbone of the 1940 team.

Landmarks

Fencing - 1938-9

FENCING is a newly organized sport at Bloomfield and has been flourishing for three years. Mr. Charles Hale, faculty adviser, is mainly responsible for the success and popularity fencing has attained in B. H. S.

The 1938-39 team, captained by Philip Johnson, compiled a favorable record by winning nine out of sixteen matches. The team, consisting of Captain Johnson, George Mitchell, and Vincent Purcell, advanced as far as the semi-finals in the National Inter-scholastic Fencing Championships, being eliminated by the eventual winner. They closed the season by finishing second to Barringer's perennial champs in the New Jersey Fencing Championships. Through their outstanding work in the state tournament Purcell and Mitchell ranked sixth and eighth, respectively, in the state.

Swimming - 1938-9

AT Bloomfield swimming is a sport which is attracting great deal of attention from the student body. A large number of candidates turn out for trials and about thirty are kept throughout the season. This team was under the supervision of Coach Richard Cheadle and faculty adviser, Neal Takala.

The 1938-39 team, ably led by Captain Robert "Monk" Donovan, undertook a difficult schedule and finished with a record of four wins and six losses.

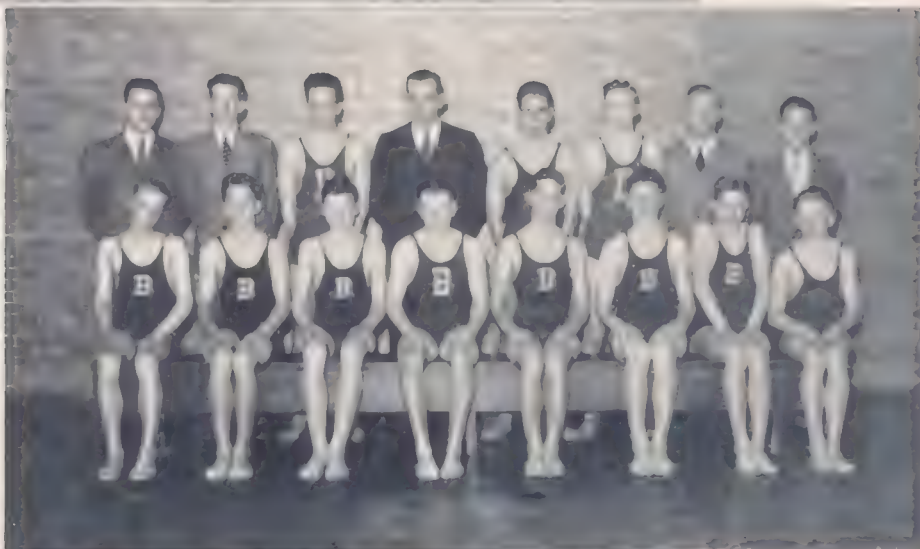

Captain Donovan, a veteran completing four years as a regular, did not lose a single meet in his senior year, proving a capable, popular leader. Donovan placed second in the 220 in the N. J. State Swimming Meet, missing first place by two inches although he was timed the same as the winner. Glenn Beach and Howell Hoelzer ably supported Donovan by winning many points in the breast stroke. Other letter winners besides Donovan, Beach, and Hoelzer were Newell Smith, Bill Smith, Myers, Giardino, Crocker, and Axt.

Tennis - 1939

IN the past Bloomfield has been represented by very good tennis teams. Tennis is a game that requires great speed, accuracy, endurance, and courage on the part of the individual players. Coach Cabot D. Kendall was confronted with the task of moulding a team from a group of players who had no match experience at all. There were no top-flight performers such as Farrand, Reid, and Shears, who had been the consistent point-winners of the past few seasons. Although the team worked hard and gave its best, because there were no veterans, the players compiled an unimposing record.

For the greater part of the season Snyder, Smith, and Kramer played singles, while many combinations were used in doubles competition. Three of the six lettermen, Snyder, Smith, and Kramer, return in 1940, while Palladino and Lewis will graduate with our class. With this nucleus of veteran players returning, the outlook for 1940 quite bright.

Landmarks

Baseball - 1939

BLOOMFIELD proved to be a great team in 1939. The 1935 team led by Hank Borowy and Ozzie Nelson, repeated by winning ten out of eleven games, sweeping through the Greater Newark Tournament with three consecutive victories. The 1937 team came within a few innings of winning the tournament, and if it had, the fellows would have completed a grand slam of football, basketball, baseball and, as events proved, another football championship the following season. Although not champions, Captain Jack Campbell's 1939 team came through splendidly and earned a good record of eight wins against five losses.

The 1939 team had nine returning lettermen—Captain Jack Campbell, Jack Robinson, Harold Savage, Tom Adams, Ziggy Kinder, Bill Greenip, Mouse Forden, Jack Biglin, and Robbie Welcher. In addition to the veterans, Borowy, Douel, McGrath, Ayre, and Schleif earned letters. Jackie Robinson proved to be an excellent pitcher and a fine hitter. Herman Schleif, Jack Biglin, and Robbie Welcher pitched well on occasion and should be valuable assets to the 1940 team, along with Greenip, Ayre, and McGrath. Campbell, Robinson, Savage, and Adams provided the heavy hitting, while Greenip and Kinder saw to it that there was no lack of spirit. The boys completed their schedule by winning the annual Decoration Day game with Columbia and then won the all-important game with the faculty.

GIRLS' GYM INSTRUCTOR

Senior Gym Team

IN 1914 Miss Edith Russell organized a girls' gymnasium at Bloomfield High School. Those interested in such work were asked to volunteer. Fifty girls came for try-outs, twenty of whom were selected to represent the Senior Gym Team of Bloomfield High School. After months of strenuous practice, an exhibition was presented, the proceeds of which went for apparatus for the Gym Team.

At present about $1,000 worth of apparatus, such as bucks, rings, horses, and parallel bars, has been purchased by proceeds of these exhibitions. There are now sixty girls performing on the Senior Gym Team.

Archery

BLOOMFIELD HIGH SCHOOL inaugurated the sport of archery in January, 1937. The first team was chosen at that time, consisting of eight girls from the senior class. The outstanding archer from the graduating class on this team was Virginia Adams, who led her team mates in many of their tournaments.

The second team was chosen the following January. This was the first in uniform, and it likewise had eight members. This team, through more regular practice and expert coaching, placed second in most of the tournaments in which it participated. The 1938 team was the first organized group, with Dorothy Heller, manager, and Anne Weber, the outstanding member.

The ten girls on the team of 1939 really made Bloomfield High School known in the realms of archery. These girls placed first in every tournament they entered and were given the honor of opening the archery range at the New York World's Fair. Another privilege which was bestowed on the team was that it was the only high school team in the United States chosen to compete in a tournament with a Japanese team of ten girls from Tokyo High School, Japan. Some outstanding honors which this team brought home were: the Indoor State Championship, Panzer College Plaque, Outdoor State Championship, the Woodbridge Trophy, and the World's Fair Trophy. The leaders of this team were Gloria Solvik, captain, and Margaretta Ward, manager. Honors were divided between Justine Johnson, one of our own class members, and Gloria Solvik, underclassman.

The team to represent Bloomfield High School for 1940 has been chosen. It consists of fourteen members. With Dorothy Roddy as captain and Gertrude Downs, manager, the team is already bringing honors to our school.

Besides this group, representative of the school, interclass teams participate in a tournament. This gives a greater number of girls a chance to shoot. The girls of the winning team receive archery emblems, which they cherish with great pride.

Girls' Basketball Teams

EACH fall for the past twenty-six years B. H. S. has found its girls in the midst of interclass basketball tournaments. Each team tries hard to win and to receive the silver basketballs which are awarded the victors.

When basketball was in its infancy there were only four teams, one for each grade. Now, due to growth of the school, there are eight teams, one for each half year.

Co-captains Justine Johnson and Helen Olin along with Jean Stanton, Jean Edwards, Betty Pierson, and Eloise Smith have been active members on our class team for four years. Ruth Zeidler and Jean Hetebrugge played three years. These girls complete the senior varsity.

During practice Miss Russell referees and coaches the girls, but when the tournament begins, an outside referee is selected.

TEN years after the Senior Gym Team had begun, the necessity for another group was realized. Thus began the organization of a Junior Gym Team, which at that time boasted thirty-six girls.

When a girl has proved herself equal to the requirements of the Senior Gym Team, she is immediately promoted. One capable girl is chosen for captain, another for co-captain. At present there are ninety girls proud to be members of the Junior Gym Team.

Commander Canals In Navy Rescue

Cruiser S. S. (Sinking Slow) disastrously wrecked an iceberg Wednesday night. Captain Callaghan received a head wound and may never be the same. However, he praised the efforts of stewards Baldwin, Bernot, and Mason; officers Fallon, Fitzgerald, Prall; and Doctor George White, with assistant nurse Norma Packstrom, for their parts in the rescue work. At the height of excitement, who should drift by in his dory but Commander Canals on leave of absence from the Navy. A timely arrival indeed! Steve Taber, radio operator, sent the S. O. S. and is now blissfully recuperating under the smiling ministrations of Winnie Crossman and Jean Grace, nurses at the Palladino Hospital.

Among the notables on board who were reported safe are international tennis star Paul B. Lewis, with his dynamic press agent, Lester Palmer; Doris Rogers and John Wisneski, the famous concert pianists; the noted violinist, Edmund Ourganian; trans-Atlantic swimmer, Marguerite Byrne; Miss America of 1949, Janet Glowczynski. Olympic champion fencer, Vincent Purcell; the Reverend Mr. John Slater; and eminent philosopher/music critic Haldane Wilson.

The rescue party, John High, Thomas Longo, and Leo Reddan, have already been notified that they will be rewarded for bravery by the governor.

Nolls to Test Tough Kinders.

The Bloomfield Nolls will encounter the smaller but tough Kinders in a grid battle at Ross Field on Saturday. The admission will be twenty cents.

Noll and Company are counting on Dorniak and Dunnigan for most of the offensive power, with Charles Elliott and Paul Bondar on the defense. For the Kinders, Ralph Nye and Fred Ott, who starred against shining Stanley Smith last Saturday, are the only hopes for this mediocre team.

HOCHULI, OTHER NOTABLES IN WEEK'S CONFERENCE AT SHORE RESORT

Climaxing a week of riotous (just plain riot) fun at the engineering convention, representatives last night attended a dinner at the Blunt Hotel. Atlantic City loses these national representatives today.

After the repast at the conclave, Convention Chairman Henry Hochuli elucidated on the "Royal Order of the Shovel". A most interesting topic, it aroused two sentiments headed by Joseph Manzione and Arthur Gruttadauria. Following this, Mr. R. U. A. Greaser offered a new argument on "Grease and Its Application in Educational Machinery". Many notables responded, among them Mr. R. A. Safe from the Steel When U Need It Company.

FAMOUS ACTS DRAW CROWD TO "JITTERBUG HEAVEN"

That now-famous night club, "Jitterbug Heaven", had a gala opening last evening. Managers Stevens, Vesterman, and Robinson believe that this will be the smartest club in the great metropolis.

It was a gala opening indeed! The floor show consisted of numerous hilarious acts. M. I. Blushing, balloon dancer, was very much startled when Justine Johnson and Ruth Zeidler started archery practice; Thornley Hoch, working his way through the Metropolitan, was the singing waiter. Other acts included Muriel Roome and Frank Rhodes, masters of the rhumba, and the "Rackettes", which consisted of Marie Reddan, Nellie Sheyka, Dolores Fischer, Bertha Steen, and Agnes MacBurnev.

Occupying near-by tables were Christina Selkirk, just back from England; Lillian Cousins, Howard Lilley, Grace Ireland, and Dante Mercurio, all of whom seemed to enjoy the performance immensely.

The greatest hit of the show, however, proved to be the "Beef-trust Ballet". Fred Ziegler did a toe dance, while Robert Douel, Walter Wujek, James Carpenter, Ronald Hill, Janet Molkenthin, Adelaide Mayer, Margaret McAusland, and Linore Kane formed the Glee Club.

Jeanne Edwards Stars in New Hit

WORLD FAMOUS CELEBRITIES PRAISE BRILLIANT ACTING IN "ART FOR ART'S SAKE."

A C. Anthony Production

Celebrities galore studded last night's performance of "Art for Art's Sake." Critics predict stardom for Jeanne Edwards.

At the premiere last night, another star was born. Jeanne Edwards was honored with the presence of A. D. Crosby, her school-day coach. Crosby, accompanied by his Dartmouth cheering section and by cheerleaders Charles Wade, Jr., and Jack Schappell, Jr., complimented the actress and her rumored "big moment," Al Sharp. Sharp and Dolores Buie designed the scenery.

The Charles Anthony production is the first at which the Mike Testors furnished syncopation, with Daniels "beating it out" and Clapp supplying the vocals. Beverly Bolan, Lucretia Elam, and Norman Harrison, authors of the hilarious comedy, likewise received compliments from Arthur Henderson, Jr., Department of Agriculture tree surgeon; Royal Boone, mad chemist; Ellis Bloomfield, wealthy cowboy; Doris Godwin, literary critic; James Herbert, Jascha Heifetz II, and Elve Johanson.

Miss Eloise's Garden Party Features Fashion Parade

"A fine addition, indeed!" Thus spoke Mayor Fox concerning the new modeling establishment in town.

Since the closing of the Dsurney and Dzama School for Modeling, our fair city has been lacking a suitable place to send ambitious young women who wish to learn this up-and-coming profession. Carol Allin and her sister-in-law, the former Claire Feuerbacher, it was announced last week, have bought the hall, formerly used by Helen Olin for her dancing school, and have established their own model guild. The classes, held every night from eight to ten, are under the able supervision of Joan Seaton, Mary Stivale, and Edward Walsh, who were graduated from the Newfoundland Model Guild. With only a few days of exercising and poise practice, the first class of girls participated in a fashion show. This was a feature of a garden party given by the well-known society matron, Eloise Smith, held in honor of the noted flyers, William Haulman and wife, last Wednesday afternoon. Beach wear, including play suits, bathing suits, and beach robes, was displayed by Bette Pierson. Many of the outfits were copies of those worn by Dorothe Kliminski in her latest picture, "Over the Waves." Nettie Lou Keyler next displayed the dresses she deemed suitable for greeting one's husband across the breakfast table. A great number of them were made from the Baker Manufacturing Company's latest cotton fabric. Tea frocks of light wool were modeled by Betty Nagle. As Anthony Pepe, the style leader, says, "Skirts are short with back fullness." "Gay Paris" is the theme of this season's dinner and evening gowns. Lovely Olga Kowalski reminded one of "Gay Paris" as she walked among the bright blossoms of the garden. Cobalt blue and flame seemed to be the fashionable colors.

Among the guests was the famous novelist, Harvey Fruchtman whose latest book, Genius, is a biography of Alexander Boyt, the discoverer of the new process for obtaining aluminum cheaply. Alice Hahn, whose home for mistreated cats has attracted considerable attention of late, was there with several of her rarest specimens. Director Wilfred Johnson of the B. H. S. studios in Hollywood was there with Robert Henry and William Fried, his talent scouts. Tea was served by the charming waitresses, Pearl Brander and Olga Specian.

Local Candidate Gets Big Send-Off

"If I get elected it will be only by luck!" Thus declared Fred Hoffman as he commenced his journey to the South and the National Republicrat caucus at Palm Beach.

The aspiring presidential candidate, with childhood sweetheart Mary Kaiser, left Grand Central a few minutes behind schedule at noon today. The delay was partly caused by an old acquaintance, Owen Giertsen now general manager of the New York Central.

Adding zip to the party were the hillbilly, Don Delli-Santi; 20th Century's George Eliot, Adele Guth; Under-Secretary of the Treasury Galicito; and French Ambassador Wanda Gallman.

To increase the confusion, Miss Ludwig, secretary, found her purse missing. Instead of calling for Chief G-Man, Peter Capezio, former track star Glen Schueler quickly recovered the missing article from the Zeppelin De Luxe taxicab. Miss Essig, hostess, greeted the celebrities and welcomed them aboard the new Pullman, Robert Mack, with its new furnishings designed by Georgette Mendles. Making the send-off complete, staunch supporters Betty Fitzsimmons, Lillian Johnson, and Michael Fastaggi joined with Edith Jacobus and Madeline Ganser in three cheers for their candidate.

DEBUTANTE MARRIES

IN COLORFUL CEREMONY;
RECEPTION AT HAGUEVILLE

The popular debutante of last season, Miss Lois Kolter, was wedded to Mr. R. (Wee) Smart at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday last. A very inspiring occasion it was!

Miss Kolter wore the same ivory satin and lace that her mother had worn. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. Her attendants, the Misses Irene Foley, Jeanne Brown, and Jane Blauvelt, wore pastel gowns in the same style as the bride, and corsages of sweet peas the same shade as their dresses adorned their gowns. The ushers were Messrs. Hochstuh!, Feitner, and Camp.

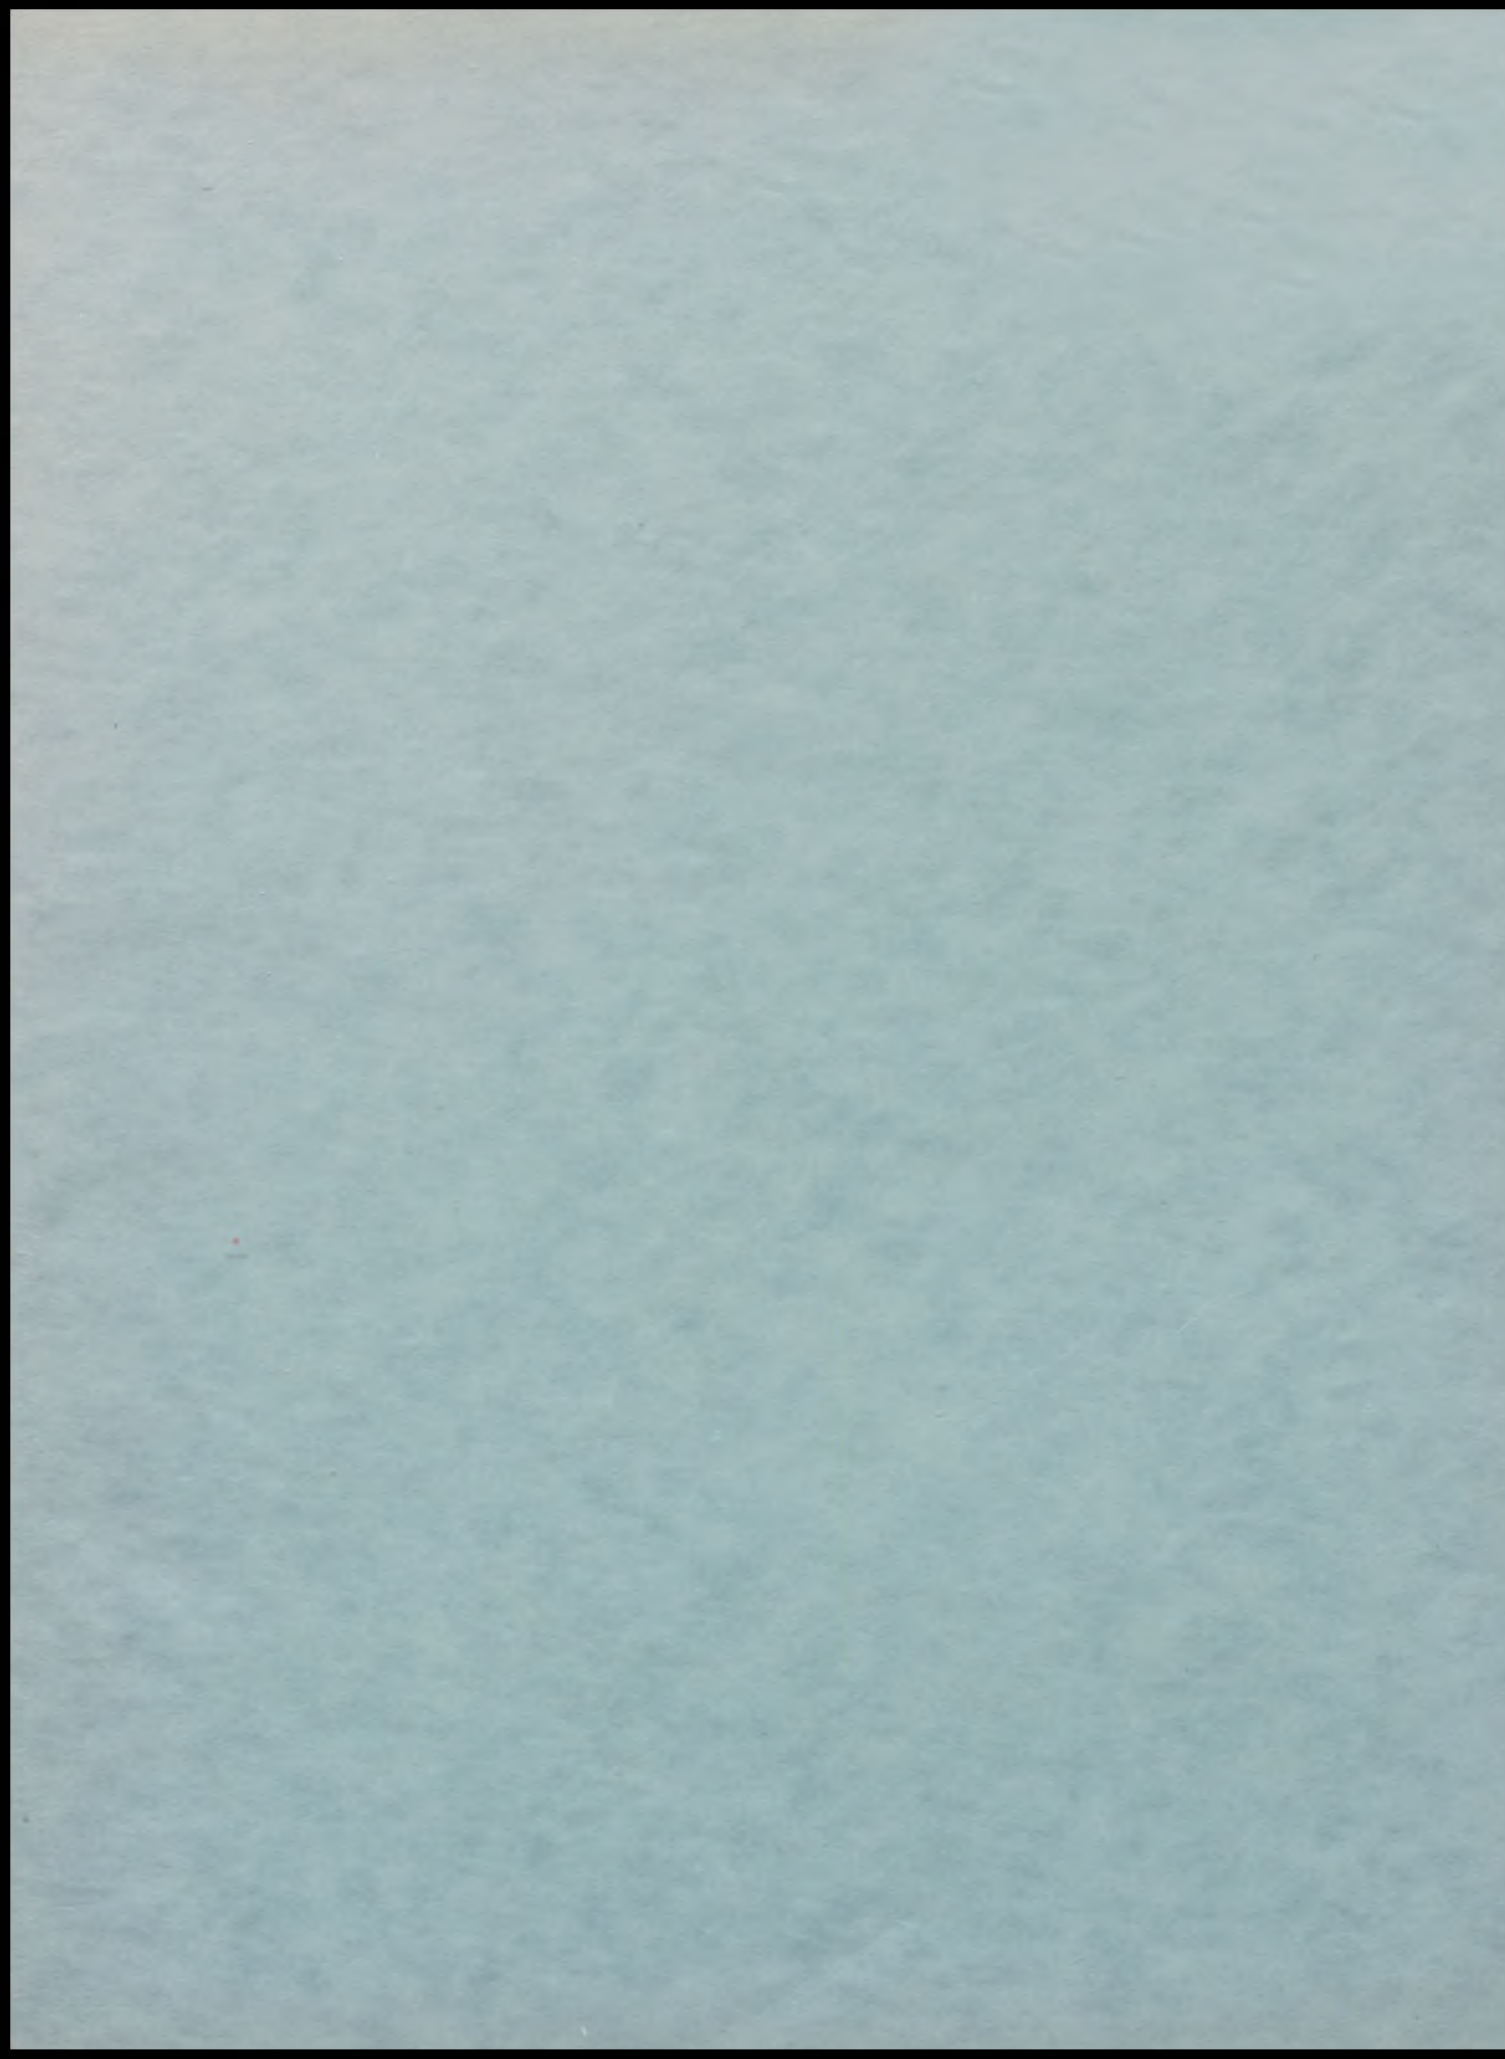

Following the nuptials a reception was held at the Carrollo Inn in Hagueville. Don's orchestra played.

A two month's honeymoon at Bali is now the destination of the happy couple.
